Editorial Comment.

Many residents have been alarmed and disturbed by Boxing. the telegraphic references to the friction said to have arisen between Commanderin-Chief Lord Wolseley and Minister for A War Lord Lansdowne in the House of Lords. It is not customary, of course, for such incidents to take place in the sereng atmosphere of the Upper House; but the fact that the exception has arisen, is not only not surprising under the circumstances, but is, to our mind, distinctly hopeful for the future. The altercation means, we take it, that the reform of the War Office, and all the other agencies connected with our system of governing and directing our Army, will now be thoroughly reorganised. Lord Roberts will doubtless be the guide and friend to every reform.

Que German Heiends and f-the Angle-Saxon world generally are, most sincerely os THE to be congratulated upon the escape of the Emperor William from the insane attack of the working man in Bremen. From our special telegrams it seems that the wound on the cheek caused by the piece of iron thrown at the Kaiser is more severe, though not serious, than it was at first reported to be; and the nophew of our King Edward will be confined to his room for the next fortnight. Until we learn more of the object of the assault upon the Kniser, it would be useless to speculate. But the Goods per Nankin not cleared at 4 British people will join with the German nation in rejoicing over the fact that though the German Emperor has been injured, his life is not in danger.

> grains during the last few days would be amusing if it ance should remain in force for the period were not in a certain measure humi. of one year from the date of its coming into listing. It is true that the humiliation operation, and for such further period or seems to have fallen more thoroughly upon periods as might, from time to time, be i the Irish nationalist party than upon the determined by resolution of the Legislative House. We were in a sense prepared for Council: scenes in the House, as the fire-eating leaders of the Irreconcileableshad promised their supporters to give the Government a 'hot time' of obstruction. That time seems to have arrived; but the speciacle of twelve supporters of the so-called Irish Parliament being carried out, like pigs, from the most dignified and orderly House of Parliament in the world cannot by any possibility forward anything but ridicule upon the performers who were enried out of the House. If these gentlemen so-called could in any sense have been accused of A Good Heliday to Them. 'paying the rint' it might have been different. But they are known to be paid agitators, and they cannot be called anything, with truth, but paid agitators of the worst type. It is exceedingly satisfactory to learn they have been suspended WATERS for the remainder of the Session.

The genial Director of -Mr. McKie has asked permission from HON. R. D. Public Works (Hon. R. His Excellency the Governor to resign D. Ormsby) made a few his seat at the Board. ### Marriage of Mr H. W Fraser.

A very quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr David Jackson, Manager of the Yokohama branch of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation on ment in the City Hall last night. The Monday (says the Japan Mail), the high tit-bit was to have been a contest between contracting parties being Mr H. W. T. Armstrong, H.M.S. THE TIME LOSSES OF INDUS-TRIAL WARFARE.

Engineering states that although last year was comparatively free from trade disputes, the aggregate duration of strikes and lockouts was 3,785,000 working days. This total, though higher than the corresponding figures for the previous year, 1899 (2,516,416 working days), is considerably language. It is like one of those amaching big less than the average for the seven years, hammers in iron or steel foundries -a thing with to the absence of any general dispute it is only to be brought out on fitting occasions. of a prolonged character. Apart from But when the time comes they must be produced, any extended dispute, an average of about and shown in all their glory to an admiring 512 200,000 workpeople are annually involved in strikes and lock-outs; but the time lost by these disputes, though in the aggregate large, forms but an insig- perience of hers some time ago? 'In March the last eight years there were six great disputes, involving an aggregate loss of 51,703,000 working days. There was a total of 6294 other disputes in those eight years, in which 30,438,512 working days were lost. The aggregate time lost in all disputes was 82, 141, 512 working days. The following figures give the total duration of the disputes in working days and the averago per annum in each group of trades; Mining,

52,652,057; average 6,581,507 days; metal trades' group 13,600,846, average 1,707,606 days; building trades' group 5,010,414, averago 626,392 days; textile trades' group 4,685,808, average 585,726 days; clothing trades' group 2,486,3'4, average 310,791 days; transport group, 1,308,669, average 163,585 days. In the miscellaneous trades' group the total was 2,342,394, average 292,799 days. It will be seen that the mining industry was responsible for the largest proportion of time lost, no less than 64.1 per cent. of the aggregate duration of all disputes being due to this trade. The engineering, shipbuilding, and metal

DON'T FISH FOR TROUT WITH A BOAT HOOK

Let us suit our tools to the work to be done. We do not trim our nails with a broadsword or fish for trout with a bout-hook. Now, a word is a tool just as a hos is or a carponter's chisel. The Queen's head on a shilling was improssed there by a machine; and certain sounds (called words) were invented for improssing ideas on the mind, on the same principle.

Take the word 'exerciating,' for instance. It is one of the strongest words in the English 1893.9, which was 11,193,790 working which green hands are not to meldle. Like the

On this basis, the conndness whereof no intel ligent person will dispute, was Mrs Ann Hill 27 institled in saying what she does about an exnificant proportion of the working time of the entire year. My foot and ankle soon spread over the entire industrial population, became swellen, hot and painful. In a little was loss than half a day per head. During | time the silment extended up the right leg to the

That is what Mrs Hill says. Is she within bounds? As for me, I say, Yes. Some four or five years ago I had my first-and, thank goodness! my only_teste of acute inflammatory theumatism. I could stand the dull ache of the muscles fairly well, but when it got hold of the big nerves, and put on an extra spurt, it made me (you will pardon the expression), it made me haller. We may reverently doubt whether Job himself, incarnation as he was of fortitude and patience, could-liave borne acute rheumatism or gont, which is chemnalism's more stylish brother, with the same swectness that marked his deportment under a load of boils and a scolding

No. Mrs. Hill has not employed the strong word 'exernciating' without a license. There are more dangerous and fatal diseases, to be sure, than rhoumation; but few that go in to hurt you as it door. Advanced medical authors nowadays are saying it is impossible to tell exactly what pain is. I beg, from the hamble view point of an unscientific layman, to suggest that if these dubious doctors will try a sesson of infi-mustery rheumatism they will find out what pain is oven

if they can't cure it. 'I could not;' continues Mrs. Hill, 'put my foot to the ground, and had to lie in bed with it. When I was a bit better, and able to move about, my steps were uncertain as those of a child learning to walk; and I continually feared I might fall. For over a year (a year lost out of my life, as I could do no work or enjoy any comfort or pleasure), I hobbled around in this way, never free from pain. In hope of relief, I tried almost everythinghot fomentations, rubbing oils, &c. But netther they nor the treatment of the doctors did me any good. In June of last year (1897) I made up my mind to try Mother Seigel's Syrup. It had enred my daughter of a seriou ailmout, and I fancied it might cure my rhoumatism. After taking it for about a fortnight I was decidedly better. The pain was so much easier that could rest and sleep and out more than I had done for a long time. #### THE VERANDAH QUESTION IN HONGKONG.

Discussion at the Sanitary

At the meeting of the Sanitary Board yesterday, correspondence with reference to the use of verandohs as store-rooms, living rooms, kitchens, etc., and the question of partitions in vorandalis was submitted. The Colonial Secretary (Hon. J. H. Stewart Lockhart, C.M.G.), in a letter dated 28th February, stated that he had been directed by His Excellency the Governor to transmit for the consideration of the Board a copy of a letter from the Honourable Director of Public Works, dated 5th January, together with its enclisare, and also a minute of the Hon. Attorney. General dated the 26th January, and to point out that, though the law in question evident to anyone observing the houses in Queen's Road West that this prohibition had been neglected. His Excellency al wished to obtain the opinion of on the question of partitions in verandahs. It was obvious that verandahs without partitions would decrease the safe ty and destroy the privacy of houses in row, and would probably be insanitury, as proventing windows being opened at night, while the argument of the additional facility in case of fire has little weight ; for there were no balconies, it would not be possible to pass from one house into the

The letter from the Hon. Director of Public Works was an follows-I have the honour to forward copy of a roport by Mr Tooker, the Acting Assistant Director of Public Works, on certain balconies, and request that the Hon. Attorney-General's "opinion may be obtained in the matter I do not think partitions opposite each party wall form a brucol of the Ordinauc. The following is the report by Mr Ton ker -Houses have recently been constructed on Marine Lot 117 and Inland Lat. 45 Praya East, in comes ion with which irbalconies were erected over the street. A application was made by Mesers Leigh and Orange on behalf of the owner for the certificate required by section 53 of Ordinance 15 of 1889. On inspecting the buildings it was found that the bulonies were divided up by an iron partition-ine opposite each party wall -which appears to me to be a breach of Section 1 of Ordinance 4 of 1888. I, therefore, called Masars Leigh and Orango's attention to the matter by letter of fered with. the 20th inst. Messra Leigh and Orange called here, and contended that partitions or vermidahe or balconies opposito party wills, so as to give cault house a private porobject of the Ordinance was to secure a free current of air along verandahs and balmen all along the buildings in case of fire. torney-General's opinion.

The Attorney General (the Hon. Meigh Goodman, K.C.) wrote: (1.) I have already given my opinion as to the law. If the law has not been onforced of late years; it is unfortunate. I am now consolidating the Building Ordinances, and the law should be made quite clear, and if it is to be altered I should be glad to know soon so as to insert any alteration in the Bill.

(2.) The real questions are :- (a) Ought partitions opposite party walls to be allowed in verandahe over Crown lands ? (b) It so are they to be allowed to go right up from the floor to the verandah above, so as to entirely enclose both ands of the yerandah or only for three or four feet from the floor, enough to show the limits of the portion alloted to each house ? (c) If allowed to go right up, are they to be readily moveable, or may they be of iron or bricks shutting out any passage of air and all access? On this head the extract from to-day's paper annexed shows how by such partition life may be lost in case of hire. (3.) This question should be settled by His Excellency in Executive Council,

(4.) Lubserve that when for public convenionce any concession is made as to what may be done over Crown land upon certain conditions, that concession is at once accepted and used; the conditions are soon ignored, and the parties benefited assume the attitude of injured parties when called on to comply with the conditions under which the benefit or concession was confer-

(5.) Bly own view is that the law should or unreasonable it should be altered and case of the Hongkong Hotel for instance. not be allowed to be habitually ignored: (6.) In this colony we want all the ourrent of air the width of the streets wil afford, and verandahs with partitions al along opposite the party walls of a row of narrow Chinese houses undoubtedly affect the current of sir and impede the action of firemen and the escape of inmates in case

Minutes were appoinded by members o the Board as follows :--Dr Clark : The law prohibits the use of verandaha over Crown land as bath-rooms, uricals, water-closets, sleeping apartments, store rooms, or cook-rooms (Ord. 4 of 1888), and during 1900 no less than 81 prosecutions were instituted by me for offences against this law, Seventy-one convictions were obtained and penaltics to the smooth of $107 recovered. Twice cases were with drawn owing to a flaw in the summones but a verbal order was made by the magistrate for compliance with the law ; me the remaining case the defendant absecuated. With regard to the use of versions as diving rooms, the law does not spacefully prohibit this, and no objection has now been taken by the department to a table and a chair or two on the versudals. the partitions I think that sold party wall should be allowed to a height of seven that

There-

They would turn their dwel lings, comfortless as they were to-day, into mere barrack rooms, with no comfort at all, and without the slightest privacy. They, as a Sanitary Board, and the Government, had interfered with the privacy of the Chineso, and more especially with Chinese family life, to a very great extent, but it had been done from sheer necessity, and he (Mr Osborne) maintained that any future | cally to perform an agreement and to grant steps they undertook for the preservation a lease to him in accordance with the terms LASTEST of the health of the Colony, should be so undertaken with a due regard to the feelings of others, and, among other things, with a Messrs Johnson, Stokes and Master) appearregard to the maintenance of the privacy of |ed for the plaintiff, and Mr J. It appeared now that for argued at an early date. many years the law had been continually broken. Perhaps his (the President's) STEAMERS PASSED SUEZ CANAL. predecessor was of the same opinion as himself, and thought the partitions were not forbidden. The Legal Advisor to the Government had now stated that the law had laid down one thing and another interpretation had been placed upon it. The Attorney General's view was that although the requirements of the Ordinance had not been mot, yet the law should always be enforced, and at all times if it was harsh or unreasonable it should be altered and not ignored. He thought it would be very hard indeed to compel the owners of properties to build solid party walls in the verandahs—they would much prefer not to have them at all. Take the storey by the erection of partitions, and would be a great hardship if they had to lo removed after all these years. He therefore was in favor of the law being enforced, but not with respect to existing buildings. Dr Hartigan observed that the Legal Adviser wished to have the privacy preserved and at the same time to secure the The C. P. R. Co.'s a.s. Empress of India free circulation of air. Could not some picaus be devised to obtain the two combined? Did the President object to the urdinary lath and plaster partition?

The President replied that the lath and plaster partition would cut off the air just the same. Outbreaks of fire in Hongkong were generally confined to one house in consequence of the thick solid party walls, but if they had the ordinary lath and plaister partition there would be noting to confine the fire, and much greater loss-to property would follow:

Dr Ball thought that if they looked along he vermidalis in the Queen's Road they would see that they were nothing more nor less than living rooms. Mr. Fungalia Chun said there had not begg any previous objection to the veranhale and nathing against their prosent use had been graid. Now it appeared that a subordingle officer had been curious enough to find put that all these things were against the law, and there and then a stir was made count it. What had the matter of these warmdabate do with the sanitary condition of the Colony? Nothing, they might rest assured for if it had the Medical Officer of Health would have found it out long since.
